

Felicia DUMAS
Université «Al. I. Cuza» Iasi (Roumanie)

L'agir divin et humain reflétés par la terminologie religieuse chrétienne-orthodoxe en langue française

Abstract: The aim of this article is to put forward a discursive analysis of several verbs, terms and verbal phrases that are used in French in order to name ways in which God's action and human action are manifested in the believer's life. We will work on a corpus comprised of orthodox theological, spiritual and informative texts, written or translated in French which are employed in the practice of the Christian orthodox faith, in the parishes and monasteries established in France during the last decades. We will also highlight the significant frequency of verbal phrases analyzed in the digital texts posted on the francophone orthodox Christian sites and blogs.

Keywords: God's action, human action, religious terminology, Orthodoxy, verbal phrases, digital texts